

DCPS LEGACY

SCHOOL YEAR CALENDAR

2020 - 2021

Dear DCPS Community,

As Chancellor of DC Public Schools (DCPS), I have the pleasure of engaging with students, staff, families, community advocates, and District leaders every day. I am always energized by the immense pride that members of the DCPS community share. It is that pride that is carrying us through the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic. It is that pride that attracts families and educators to DCPS and drives our progress as one of the nation's fastest improving urban school districts.

In School Year 2019-2020, DCPS proudly enrolled more than 50,000 students for the first time since 2006. I am grateful that more families trust DCPS to provide their children with rigorous and joyful learning experiences. As we celebrate the scholars we serve across the district, we honor the generations of students, families, and educators who studied in our classrooms, taught in our schools, and crossed our graduation stages.

Our DCPS Legacy is grounded in the tireless efforts of our school communities, the endless belief in the potential of our students, and the incredible power of our district. From Principal Tukeva, the founder of Columbia Heights Education Campus (Ward 1) who is inspiring the next generation of educators, to Samiyah, a third-generation Nalle Elementary School (Ward 7) student and future leader, every person in the DCPS community leaves a mark that transforms our district for the better.

As we embark on a new school year, we are proud to continue the DCPS Legacy by launching the Stevens Early Learning Center (Ward 2), the first citywide, standalone early learning center with Pre-K3 and Pre-K4 classes, as well as a child care center for infants and toddlers ages 0 to 3, and closing the digital divide through the Empowered Learner's Initiative (ELi), a three-year investment in technology led by Mayor Bowser. Students, staff, families, community advocates, and District leaders — thank you for your continued support, pride, and trust. It is going to be a great school year.

In partnership,

Lewis D. Ferebee, Ed.D.
