

FOREVER

2 3-2 4

August 2023

Dear DCPS Community,

As the Chancellor of DC Public Schools (DCPS), I am excited to share the official calendar for School Year 2023-2024. I hope you and your families will use it as a guide to help plan for a successful academic year while celebrating the enduring legacy of our district.

This year's calendar theme illustrates "DCPS Forever" with our very own community of students, staff, parents, families, and alumni—all of whom are vital to our sustainability. To tell the story, each month features individuals throughout DCPS who have unique experiences and multiple connections that center a common goal—every student reaches their full potential.

Flipping through these pages fills me with joy to see DCPS alumni returning as teachers, school-based staff and leadership, Central Services team members, and parents of current DCPS students. We are fortunate to have Columbia Heights Education Campus alumna and teacher Shuk-Kuen Chiu, Duke Ellington School of the Arts alumnus and band director Kieron Irvine, and so many others inspiring the next generation to strive for success.

It is amazing to have multiple members of the same family committed to ensuring that every student feels loved, challenged, and prepared to positively influence society and thrive in life. Educators like Barnard Elementary School's mother-daughter duo—Dr. Gladys Creppy Hetherington and Tatiana Hetherington—they are DCPS' vision in action.

And as the proud parent of a DCPS graduate, I am honored to highlight and work alongside my colleagues who have also selected DCPS for their children. Reading how Marie Reed Elementary School Principal Katie Lundgren gets fulfillment leading in the school system educating her sons brought up a sentiment I know well.

The future of DCPS rests in the hands of this tremendous community, and together, we embody DCPS Forever. I cannot wait to make new memories in School Year 2023-2024 as our students continue to grow and thrive. Thank you for your support.

In partnership,

Lewis D. Ferebee, Ed.D.

AUGUST

"Middle school is dear to my heart because as a kid growing up in DC, I remember those middle school grades being such a critical stage. So, it doesn't even really feel like work to me. It's me giving back to students at a time when they need it the most. And I also just enjoy having my family be a part of this community."

SEPTEMBER

"I strongly believe that all children deserve an excellent education regardless of what school they attend. As the principal of Marie Reed [Elementary School], I'm going to make sure that's the case for all of my students. And as a parent, I trust DC Public Schools to have an excellent teacher in front of my kids. That's the #1 thing that's going to help my child succeed, and I trust that because I know how DCPS values excellent teachers."

NOTES

"In education, you must reach the heart of the student. Once you get their heart, once they know who you are, once they know that you care about them in particular, they're going to open up more. Once that is established, kids open up to you, and their brain is a sponge."

— Dr. Gladys Creppy Hetherington - Former DCPS Parent | Assistant Principal, Barnard Elementary School

"What I love most about my job is getting to know the kids. They have such personalities, they're so loving. It's just amazing to see their curiosity at such a young age. They want to know everything—it's great to see that. I just hope I can help give them the tools they need as they get older, and that they keep that curiosity and keep growing and learning."

"We're both products of DC Public Schools, and it has served us well. It's been great to see the investment that DC has made in the school system. We've seen progress inside the buildings—classrooms, technology, pools—and even the outdoor spaces. Any kid who wants to be great has the resources to be great. NOTES

As a professional musician, I think it's important for students to see someone who looks like them in this setting. Me being here, teaching and doing my art form, allows them to see the possibilities. This school gave me my shot, so it's my duty to make sure I give kids their fair shot."

— Kieron Irvine - Duke Ellington School of the Arts (DESA) Alumnus & Head Band Director and Co-Chair of the Instrumental Music Department

"There's so much purpose in supporting those in the classroom. If educators had to focus on things like building or security issues, it would take away from teaching students. DCPS does a great job of understanding that it really takes a well-oiled machine for kids to be able to learn, and they deserve to learn in an environment that is safe, whole, and makes them happy."
